A Week of Fun!- Will you be the one to solve this crime? Our community is counting on you!

Do you have a questioning mind? Do you like to discover clues and investigate possible leads? A week of "who done it!" will stimulate your mind and your senses. Students will combine forensic science with deductive reasoning to explore and investigate. Students take on the role of lead investigators utilizing the same principles as forensic experts and detectives in the field. Students team up to solve a "crime of the century" that has taken place in the small, fictitious town of Daltonville. All supplies and investigative equipment are furnished.

Expect to have FUN!!!
